Sea Freight

Around 90% of international freight is moved by sea, due to its highly cost-effective nature.

Our team of experts will work with you to review sailing schedules based on your ex-factory dates and supply chain lead times, to help create the most efficient 'just in time' ocean freight solution for your business.

Decades-long relationships with ocean carriers allow us to provide flexible offerings, with both full container and part container loads.

Our knowledge of schedules and routes mean we're able to create significant cost savings for our clients.
